

Statements from participants

'As a supervisor, it will help me deal with situations and staff better and more effectively' Supervisor.

'As a person and team member it has been important to learn this information to understand each other better and why they do and say this as they do and act, Also to improve myself' Team member.

'I have learnt more about myself but more importantly it has given me insight in how to better manage my team and the people I work with' Team leader.

'I feel this was beneficial to our team. I found this program very interesting and to see the different personalities and how your behaviour can affect your relationships at work or at home' Team member.

'I would recommend the Enneagram, run by Pauline, to those who supervise people and for team building purposes' Team leader, local gov.

'It should be mandatory for all to help us understand one another' Consultant.

'A must for anyone who is interested in their own development and assisting others to achieve their full potential. Unlimited scope for ongoing learning and exploration' Team member.

'The course was really well run – a good balance between practice and theory, and being able to discuss its relevance to our own lives' Corp. trainer.

'I enjoyed learning some useful skills to understand myself and others. I finally understand my motivations about things that have confused me for a long time' Public Servant.

'I think that your teaching and preparation was outstanding – exemplary. You are totally on top of your material. I am so impressed. Thank-you. I've learned so much' Secondary teacher.

'Knowing others is intelligence. Knowing yourself is wisdom' (Lao Tzu, Tao Te Ching)
